I hope you'll like this drabble.

James kissed the soft skin between the shoulder blades of his lover. His fingertips caressed the muscular but smooth back, wandering down until they reached the bottom.

James smoothed his hand over one cheek and softly kneed it, causing a moan of pleasure by the man who laid on the bed, his head on the cushions turned to the left.

The curls and waves of his chestnut coloured hair covered up his face, and James slowly stroked it back to have access to the ear of his lover, whispering into it.

His lover gave another low moan.

Jason was perfect.
